

DEATH OF FOURTH MATE OF ACCUSED WOMAN, FORECAST

State Says Witness Predicted Man Would Die If He Wed Lyda Southard.

By ROBERT A. DONALDSON, United Press Staff Correspondent. TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Oct. 10.—That Granville Haight, proprietor of the Blue Lakes ranch, predicted the death of Edward P. Meyer, fourth husband of Mrs. Lyda Southard, alleged "Blubberhead," now on trial on a charge of poisoning Meyer with arsenic obtained from flypaper, was revealed by the state today.

Meyer was foreman on the Blue Lakes ranch, which Haight managed. "Meyer won't last long if he marries Lyda," was the statement Haight is said to have communicated to several persons.

The day following Mrs. Southard's marriage to Meyer, the latter, according to information in the hands of the prosecution, came to Haight and said that his wife wanted him to draw up his will and asked Haight to recommend an attorney.

"She's a pretty fast worker," Haight said he told Meyer. Meyer, he said, only laughed and replied: "Oh, no. She's just a good business woman and likes to have everything done in a business way."

Haight referred Meyer to Attorney Ben Bussmann, who drew up Meyer's will in favor of Mrs. Southard.

The first witness to take the stand today was E. R. Dooley, city chemist of Twin Falls. Dooley was recalled for cross-examination by the defense.

Not Beauty Only

These whiter teeth mean safer teeth as well

No doubt the great reason why millions use Pepsodent is to get prettier teeth. It removes the dingy film.

But science has more important objects. Pepsodent brings five effects, and all of them mean better tooth protection.

The ruinous film
Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Old methods of brushing do not effectively combat it. So it often lingers long.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look cloudy. Countless teeth are thus made dingy.

Film is the base of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of other serious troubles. Most of the tooth and gum attacks are now traced to that film.

Must combat it daily
After diligent research science has found two ways to combat that film. Many careful tests have

Fights starch and acid
Pepsodent does what fruit acids do. It multiplies the salivary flow. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch before it clings. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Those are Nature's great tooth-protecting agents. Every use of Pepsodent multiplies their powers.

Effects are apparent
Millions now know the delightful effects. As soon as one will can quickly see and feel them.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Then read the reasons in the book we send.

A week may bring a life-long change in your tooth cleaning methods. Cut out the coupon now.

"MARSE HENRY"

IN HEREAFTER

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 10.— Colonel Henry Watterson, former editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal and, during the Civil War, publisher of the Chattanooga Rebel, has written a characteristic letter to the committee in charge of the forthcoming reunion of the United Confederate veterans to be held here in which he expressed regret at not being able to attend.
The letter, written from New York city, and addressed to the chairman of the committee, follows:
"Perhaps it is as well that I may not again look upon the thin gray line soon to disappear forever from the scenes of this world, for it might put too great a strain upon an old man's tenderest sensibilities.
"My love to the old boys! It cannot be long when we shall meet on that beautiful shore, and when met, be sure that Bonnie Blue flag will be flying at the shore and the bands will be playing Dixie on Parade whilst the pretty girls will be distributing the Chattanooga Rebel to groups of ragged, red-nosed angels who have not forgotten the rebel yell."

UNITED STATES OF
SOUTH AMERICA
WAS BORN TODAY

Honduras, Guatemala and Salvador Cease to Function
As Units.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Oct.
10.—A new nation having an approximate area of 100,000 miles and a population of 4,000,000 came into existence today when the governments of Honduras, Guatemala and Salvador ceased to function and the provisional federal council of the Central American Federation composed of those countries, took charge.
The new republic lies between Mexico and Nicaragua, with Tegucigalpa as its capital.
The pact of the union was signed early in January of this year at San Jose, Costa Rica, by the three mentioned states and Costa Rica whose national assembly rejected it later by a vote of 19 to 20.
Nicaragua refused to sign the pact on account of differences with its neighbor states about the interpretation of the Bryan-Chamorro treaty between the United States and Costa Rica, which the United States, special right for the construction of a new inter-oceanic canal through its territory.
Similar considerations apparently prevailed in Costa Rica, but in both countries the public opinion is endeavoring to bring about something. The union of Nicaragua and Costa Rica to the federation. If this comes to a fulfillment, the population of the new nation would be increased by 1,000,000 inhabitants and would extend its boundary down to Panama.

DREAM OF CENTURY.
The union of these sister republics has been a national aspiration since eighty years ago, when political troubles destroyed the federal republic of Central America, which as a whole, liberated itself from the Spanish yoke in 1821 and maintained its unity until the torties. They speak the same language, Spanish, have the same religion, Roman Catholicism, and are of the same race, predominantly Indian, except in Costa Rica where the white race prevails. Since the Spanish conquest they have had identical legislation and the same culture.

The text of the treaty of union provided for a government modelled on the lines of the Constitution of the United States with three separated branches—the executive, legislative and judicial. Although no executive is modeled more on the Swiss system. A constitution embodying these provisions was finally approved by the Constituent Assembly, which met in September at Tegucigalpa.

In so far as it does not infringe on the federal constitution each state retains its autonomy and independence in its internal affairs and will carry on the governmental functions not specifically delegated to the Federation.

FEDERAL COUNCIL.
The executive power reposes in a Federal Council composed of popularly elected delegates, each state to elect one councilman and one alternate, for the term of five years.
Alternates may enter into the deliberations of the council, but have no vote. From among their number, the councilmen elect one president and one vice-president to hold office for one year. They cannot succeed themselves.
The legislative branch reposes in two houses, one of senators and the other of deputies. The Senate consists of three senators for each state, elected by the state congress for the term of six years, and will renew itself by thirds every two years.
The House of Deputies is composed of popularly elected representatives in the proportion of one to every 100,000 inhabitants, or fraction of more than 50,000. The deputies are elected for four years and must renew by half every two years.
The judicial power is vested in a Supreme Court and other courts established by law. Supreme Court judges will be seven in number and will be elected for life by the Senate from a list of candidates prepared by the Federal Council.
Liberty of thought and conscience and many democratic principles are provided for.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.
The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth?
Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.
Indigestion, dizziness and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "foggy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c

DEMONSTRATIONS LAUNCH WEEK OF FIRE PREVENTION

Chief Spectacle in East Oakland, Where Parade of Firemen Is Held.

Fire Prevention Week started off with zest today, with demonstrations by firemen, circulation of tracts, exhibitions by downtown merchants, and many other affairs calculated to help make "fire prevention week" into an all-year affair.

The big spectacle, so far as the fire department is concerned, was in East Oakland, where apparatus mobilized before noon at Engine 4 and paraded up and down the streets, giving exhibitions of fire-fighting prowess wherever possible. Along upper Broadway other fire companies performed "stunts" all day.

SCHOOL CAMPAIGN.
Plans for these demonstrations have been proceeding for several weeks under Acting Fire Chief McGrath, who issued orders to the various companies to fire part in the performance. Each company keeps a wary eye on the alarm signals while out, being ready to quit demonstrating at any minute and get busy on a real alarm.

Downtown stores, in many instances are gay with posters and placards advertising the purpose of the "Fire Prevention Week" and urging that the lessons of this week be studied all year round.

The superintendent of schools has started the campaign among the younger generation, and compositions on the subject of fire prevention, fire fighting and fire drills will be going on all week, with special prizes for the winners.

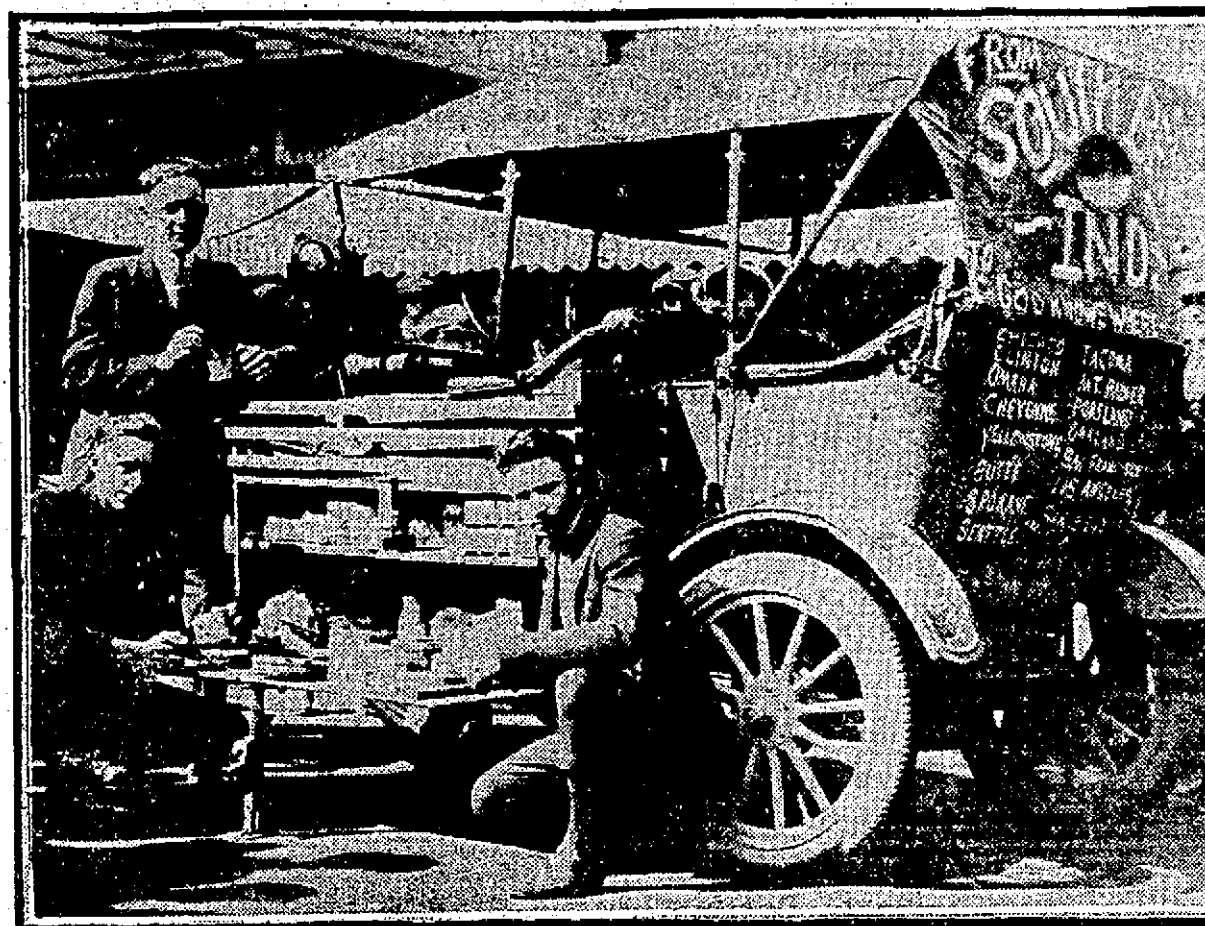

LESSONS TAUGHT.
"Fire Prevention Week" does not mean much in itself," says Chief McGrath, "but it is a splendid method for bringing the matter of caution and prevention to the people of the whole city, so that the city and its citizens will be the gainers. Fire Prevention Week is a week set aside for education along these lines. The knowledge, it is hoped, will be applied throughout the year."

"It has been shown that these weeks of education have had splendid results. As time goes on, we believe that these annual times for considering the fire problem will have caused almost a cessation of the problem."

"There are usually few fires during fire prevention week. That is enough in itself to justify the week, but we believe that it goes further than that. There may be hundreds of fires which have never broken out because folks are becoming more prudent."

DOG BITES OFF NOSE.
NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—A big Alsatian terrier attacked Herbert Tyson, a commercial traveler, at Lake Mahopac and bit off his nose.

Auto Ready for Discard, Runs 7000 Miles More and Reaches Coast 'Going Strong'

Tramp automobile, whose radiator has ploughed through atmosphere ranging all the way from below sea level to an altitude of 12,000 feet, and whose speedometer has clicked off almost 7000 miles since last July, when its driver and three other occupants set forth for a transcontinental trip from South Bend, Ind. The machine is equipped with a kitchen, a machine shop, dishes, bedding and a suitcase rack. ORVILLE M. SNYDER, its master, is standing to the left in the picture, with FLOYD HUME and J. W. SNYDER on his left.

Four Men Travel From Indiana to California Where They Will Remain

Aboard a small touring car, whose life was declared to be approaching a close, Orville M. Snyder, John W. Snyder, brothers; Ralph A. Good and Floyd Hume, all of South Bend, Ind., left that city last July headed for California, by way of Seattle. Yesterday they arrived in Oakland, their destination, after nine weeks en route.

Carrying their own machine shop, consisting of everything that a good mechanic desires, as well as a complete kitchen outfit, bedding, a box for provisions and their suitcases, the four motorists succeeded, through the aid of their machine shop, in keeping the car chugging along, up hill and down hill, over almost 7000 miles of roadway, with but brief delays.

Trouble, however, has never quite abandoned them since they pulled out of South Bend with smiles upon their faces. They have been in all sorts of places, have visited every national park in the West and en route and have climbed some stiff mountain grades, where, at times, there was much walking and pushing to keep the little car moving.

They have mended one tire and three tubes exactly 163 times, both of which are still going strong. The motor has been overhauled twice, all the work having been accomplished in out-of-the-way places. The last time the motor needed repairs was at the summit of the Sierrita, on the California-Oregon line. After repairs had been made it was necessary to melt snow in order to procure water for the radiator.

The last serious trouble occurred when the rear end of the automobile dropped out. This same unpleasant experience came to them on two other occasions.

The young men intend to spend the winter in Oakland. Good, who is a telephone repairman, has already secured steady employment, and his comrades also intend to find work.

GIRL REFUSES TO DESERT BROTHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—If the immigration authorities do not permit her 14-year-old brother Pedro to enter the country, pretty Miss Louise Kerrinck has determined that she will return with him to their home in San Miguel, Salvador. The girl and her brother are at Angel Island today following their arrival yesterday, pending action by the board of inquiry which is considering the case.

"If Pedro goes I go, too," asserted his pretty sister today as she flashed a smile that almost dazzled the immigration officials.

Yesterday the immigration officers informed her that she was free to enter the country, but her brother would have to be detained until an investigation was completed. Despite all suggestions that she would be more comfortable elsewhere, the girl said she would not desert her brother, even for a short time, and if he was not allowed to enter the country she would accompany him home. The ruling that all foreign children arriving in this country must be either met or accompanied by a parent, is responsible for the investigation.

SUSPECT HELD IN WOMAN MURDER MYSTERY IN S. F.

Teamster in Jail and Pool-room Frequenter, Partner, Hunted by Police.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—William Sheehan, a teamster, is under arrest today charged with murder; Thomas C. Skelton, odd jobs worker, is being held as a witness, and John Mort, pool room hanger-on, is being sought by the police in connection with the death of Mrs. May Morris, 36, a guest at the Hotel Hale, 939 Mission street, whose body was found early yesterday morning in Golden Gate park near the First Avenue entrance. Death had been caused by strangulation.

The victim was identified at the morgue last night by John A. Beasley, 45 Noe street, who said he was the woman's fiancé. He told the police he believed Mrs. Morris had been attacked by a hold-up man, as she was known to have carried large sums of money and a considerable amount of jewelry with her. He said she usually carried these valuables in her stockings.

CLOTHING IN SHREDS.

According to the police, the woman's assailant had torn her stockings to shreds. The condition of her clothing indicated she had struggled desperately. Beasley told the police Mrs. Morris was the divorced wife of a railway mail clerk traveling out of Oakland. He said the woman is survived by a mother living in Winemucca, Nev., a sister living at Boulder Creek, Cal., and other relatives living in Stockton, where she was born.

Sheehan was arrested yesterday after Skelton had told the police of being in the company of Sheehan Saturday night and had traced his movements until early Sunday morning.

According to Skelton, he met Sheehan and Mort in a beach street pool room and it was agreed the trio would ride to the beach and obtain some wine. They followed this plan and were returning to the city through Golden Gate park, Skelton said, when they observed the Morris woman sitting on the lawn apparently under the influence of liquor and calling to them to "take me home."

Skelton said the automobile was stopped, that Sheehan went over to the woman and then returned to the automobile and told Skelton to drive on, as he planned to remain there a while.

RETURN, FIND BODY.

After leaving Mort at the pool room, Skelton said, he met his wife and told her of what had occurred. Mrs. Skelton insisted that they return to Golden Gate park and see if any harm had befallen the woman. When they reached the spot where they last had seen Sheehan and Mrs. Morris, according to Skelton, the woman was lying on the grass and Sheehan was near her. Skelton quoted Sheehan as having said: "Let her alone; she is drunk."

Skelton said he then drove Sheehan to Fulton and Stanton streets, where the latter left the Skeltons, who then reported the matter to the Park police station.

Sheehan, the police say, confirms Skelton's story in so far as it relates to the trip to the beach but asserts he has no recollection of what happened afterward.

OAKLAND WOMAN CELEBRATES HER 95TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mary A. Smith, for 75 years a resident in the bay region, will celebrate the ninety-fifth anniversary of her birth today, surrounded by four generations of her family. She is the widow of the late H. C. Smith, a founder of Alameda county, and for many years a member of the state legislature. Mrs. Smith made her home with a grand daughter, Mrs. H. L. Drury, 407 Dover street. Mrs. J. P. Hargrave, a daughter, and Miss Elizabeth Drury, a great grand daughter, with Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Drury, are representatives of the four generations.

Mrs. Smith crossed the plains to California in 1846 from Indiana when a young woman of 20. She made her home in Yerba Buena, now San Francisco. She has witnessed the development of the Pacific coast from an unexcited land to its present industrial and commercial importance.

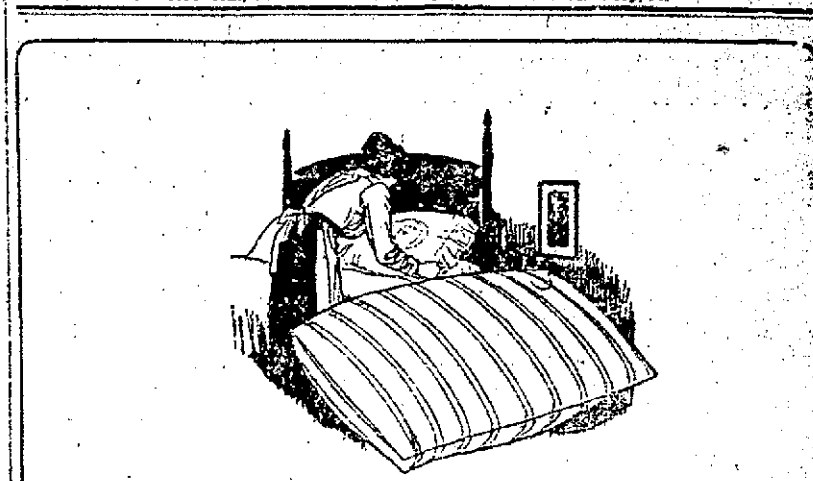

Henry C. Smith, her husband, came to California in 1846, after a time locating at Alvarado. He was elected to the state legislature from Santa Clara county, where he was a leader in the movement of forming Alameda county and locating the county seat at Alvarado.

Later the seat of government was moved to San Leandro, thence to East Oakland, and finally to its present location.

Until two or three years ago Mrs. Smith made her home in Livermore. She has a wide circle of friends in the east end of Alameda county.

Your Bed Pillows— Would You Like to Have Them Washed?

Bed pillows are seldom washed in many households—the same pillows are used through summer and winter, illness and health.

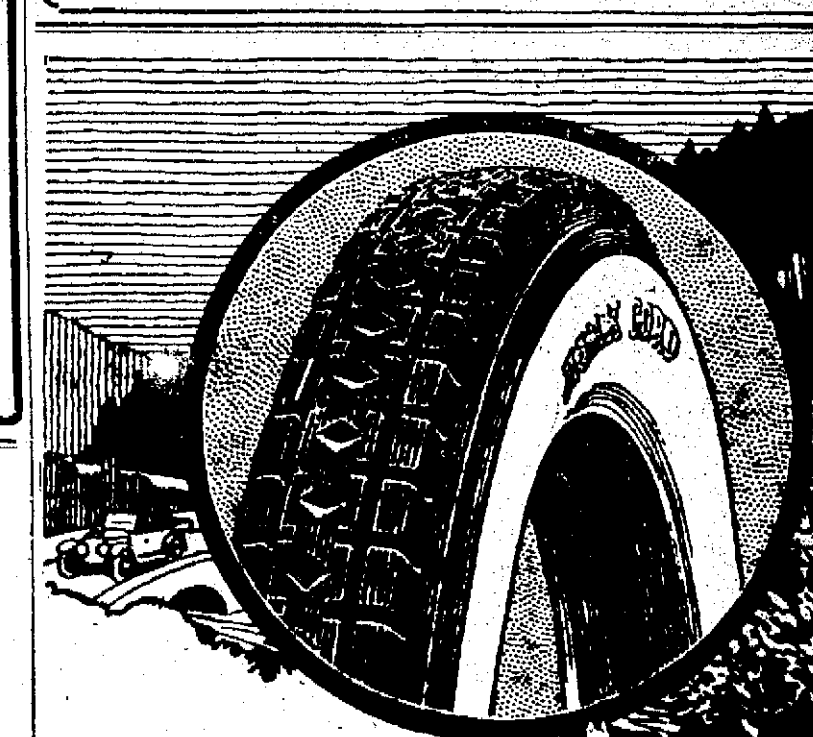

This often happens in the dwellings, too, of housewives who are justly proud of their home sanitation. Sweet, clean slips are used, but pillows nevertheless are frequently overlooked.

Why not send your pillows to us for a thorough cleansing? We bubble them up and down in pure soft water and fluffy suds. We rinse them time and again. Then we dry them quickly in fresh, warm air, and tumble them until they become delightfully downy once more.

It gives new life to the feathers, whether they be snowy breast feathers, or the less fluffy tail feathers. The pillow, too, is sterilized. Slumber becomes a new pleasure.

Send your pillows along next time our route representative calls for your family bundle. Or telephone us and we will have our route representative stop next time he passes your way.

GRAY COMPILES COMPLAINTS ON PHONE SERVICE

Persons Unable to Have Instruments Installed, City Attorney Claims.

More complaints against the telephone company's service and its alleged delay in installing telephones from would-be subscribers poured into the office of Mayor Davis and City Attorney Gray today. Gray says he is getting ready to refer them to the railroad commission.

Dr. W. J. King, dentist, of 3453 Fruitvale avenue, says that he has made three applications for a telephone within the month, two written and one personal. He says he was asked to pay $7.50 in advance and $8 later, the $8 coming back to him after the city began its probation.

All the time, says King, there has been a telephone in his house, left over from a previous tenant.

"Apparently," complains King, "the matter is being delayed till they can put me in a new phone which will cost all that the traffic will bear."

A. Bauer, of 4614 Edgewood said he has applied for a telephone but is told he cannot get one till March.

"It is a very poor inducement for a man wishing to buy in Oakland if his telephone cannot be installed," says Bauer.

Mrs. W. B. Moody, of 5155 Broadway, complains of the service. She says she was telephoned seven times in one hour by the wrong party, and alleges that her sister had to sit at a phone three hours trying to get a number. Her complaint, however, will be thrown out as it does not touch upon the actual installation of the physical plant.

Mrs. A. Busekist, 1413 Sixty-seventh street, Berkeley, says that on October 5 she was promised service by February 1, next.

"I am accumulating all this evidence," says Gray, "with the intent to bring it before the railroad commission. There is apparently something very unsatisfactory about our telephone installations."

BRUZZONE TO BE HELD FOR MURDER

Antonia Bruzzone is to be charged with murder today, the police declare, as a result of the death yesterday of Gust Markwitz, which resulted from a gunshot wound, which is alleged to have been inflicted by Bruzzone.

The shooting took place on the evening of October 1 in front of the home of Bruzzone at 614 Lancaster street. Markwitz accompanied James Hines, 3210 Nineteenth avenue, to the home of Bruzzone, where Hines was to collect a sum of money from Bruzzone.

According to the police, Hines went into the house, and an argument followed. Markwitz waited outside in the automobile. When he saw Hines coming out of the house being followed by Bruzzone, who had a revolver in his hand, he got out of the machine. As he stepped over to where Hines was standing, Bruzzone fired two shots, both of them striking Markwitz.

Register, or Lose Vote, Is Warning

Citizens of Oakland and Alameda county who have not registered to vote must do so this week, before 9 o'clock next Saturday night, or lose their right until next year. All voters who have come into the county since January 1, 1920, and all who have changed their address since they last registered will have to register. Persons who have come from other states, but who have been living in California for a year, three months in Alameda county and 30 days in their precinct are permitted to register as citizens of California and to vote at the next election, November 16.

Citizens may register at registration headquarters in the Hall of Records, Fifth and Broadway, Oakland, or at the office of the clerk of all incorporated cities and towns within the county. Those who registered for the fall election of 1920 are not required to re-register.

Revenue Cutter and Destroyer Collide

The scratching off of a few scales of paint was the only damage resulting from a collision on the bay today between the revenue cutter Hali and a United States cutter-destroyer. The Hali, which had left the Union Construction Company on her maiden trip, was running parallel to the coast of the ferryboat Yerba Buena and did not see the destroyer, which was the first vessel in a string that was steaming up the fairway and out to sea.

The ferryboat slowed up to allow the destroyers to pass, and the view of those on board the Hali was evidently obstructed by the ferryboat, for the Hali did not slow down until the destroyer was almost upon her. She slowed down in time to avoid being cut in two, but rammed the destroyer amidships. Neither vessel was damaged and both proceeded on their way almost immediately afterward.

Thelen to Talk On Consolidation Plan

Max Thelen of Berkeley, former president of the State Railroad Commission, will speak on the proposed city and county consolidation of Alameda county and its effect upon Berkeley, at the dinner of the Men's Community Club to be held tomorrow evening at St. John's Presbyterian church. Thelen has made a study of this matter, which is of vital interest to the Berkeley elites, and will present some decided views as to the inadvisability of Berkeley entering the proposed consolidation. His talk will be followed by a general discussion on the question.

DR. SUSAN J. FENTON and a group of the children who honored her today at Associated Charities headquarters.

Compliment to Be Paid Retiring Official at Hotel Oakland on November 20

Dr. Susan J. Fenton, who retired this month as president of the Associated Charities of Oakland, will be honored at a brilliant dinner which her co-workers have arranged for Thursday evening, October 20, at Hotel Oakland. The compliment is being given in recognition of a long service as head of the philanthropic organization. Invitations for the function went out this morning to many prominent men and women of the city.

A. Jonas is chairman of the committee on arrangements for the October dinner. His associates are Miss Elizabeth Sherman, Miss Annie Florence Brown, E. H. Pendleton. Appreciation of Dr. Fenton's administration will be expressed by many of those who have been closely identified with her in Associated Charities work. Why West Berkeley Will Fight Charter Explained

BERKELEY, Oct. 10.—Urging that friends of the consolidation of East-bay communities should work to defeat the charter submitted by the board of freeholders, Charles Robertson, president of the West Berkeley Improvement club, today explained why the West Berkeley organization resented its original endorsement of the charter.

"The West Berkeley Improvement club some months ago went on record in favor of a consolidation of East-bay communities and endorsing the charter, said Robertson today, "but that was before the document had been issued."

"At the last meeting, after a careful consideration of the charter provisions at a series of meetings, the club decided that the charter has certain objectionable features and that it should be defeated. Accordingly a resolution was passed stating that while the club has not changed its views on consolidation, the club is opposed to the charter to be submitted at the coming election."

POWERS OF ONE MAN. "One of the main objections we have is placing tremendous power in the hands of one official, the manager, over whom the voters would have very little control."

"Even a casual reading of the charter shows that among the powers and duties of the manager are the following: "An appointment of the sheriff, at a salary of $4,000 a year; appointment of clerk, salary $500 a year; appointment of treasurer, salary $500 a year; appointment of tax and license collector, salary $500 a year; appointment of recorder, salary $400; appointment of coroner, salary $400; appointment of public administrator, salary $400; appointment of fish and game warden, when the manager thinks such an official necessary, at a salary of $1200; appointment of a livestock inspector, when the manager thinks such an official necessary, at a salary of $125 a month; appointment of the senior of weights and measures, salary $3000; appointment of horticultural commissioner, salary to be fixed by metropolitan council; appointment of city attorney, salary to be fixed by

PARDEE RESUMES EPISTLE WRITING TILT WITH THELEN

Charter League Leader Answers Letter, But Again Omits Details.

Another chapter in the epistolary debate between Max Thelen, former chairman of the state railroad commission, and George C. Pardee, president of the Charter League, was written today when Pardee answered Thelen's letter of October 7. In his letter the Charter league head repeats the statement that $500,000 is to be saved but does not include the details asked by Thelen.

Indications of the warmth that is developing with the exchange is seen in the subscription to the letter in which Pardee calls Thelen an "Artful Dodger." The usual friendly signature is also omitted and in a number of instances the former governor calls the railroad commissioner a "cuttlefish."

The Pardee letter includes the following paragraphs: "You say that I have claimed that the proposed city and county consolidation will reduce Berkeley's taxes an indefinite amount" and that when you "challenged me to furnish a detailed statement you (I) ducked."

"ITEM BY ITEM." As a matter of cold fact, I have showed you several times, item by item, that the people of Alameda county will save, under consolidation, at the very least, the very definite amount of $500,000 annually, and that the people of Berkeley will save at least the very definite amount of $85,000 of that sum.

I have also showed you, several times, that the people of Alameda county will save, under consolidation, at the very least, the very definite amount of $500,000 annually, and that the people of Berkeley will save at least the very definite amount of $85,000 of that sum.

To this also, your only reply has been that I "duck and run." Refusing to comment on this $500,000 saving to the people of Berkeley by consolidation, you cuttlefish again and say that I "should tell the people of Berkeley that they will be asked upon to help pay for a large number of officials, departments, boards and commissions in addition to the present county officials, including the following: City and county manager, city attorney, department of public works, chief of police, fire chief, civil service commission, board of library trustees, department of public health, hospitals and social welfare, city planning commission, when established; park commission, department of public service, public utility board, when established; board of harbor commission."

Really, it is to laugh! For I am quite sure that you know that Berkeley now has all those officials, and commissions, except a city manager, a harbor commission, a civil service board, which Berkeley is now discussing, and a public utility board, the creation of which is also being agitated in Berkeley. Each and all of these cost the people of Berkeley much in taxes. And each and all of these Berkeley officials and boards will be dispensed with under consolidation. CALLS "ARTFUL DODGER." You say you "have challenged me to present the facts to substantiate my claims." Berkeley will save money by consolidation, and that I "have lied like the Parthians."

Again I call your attention to the $500,000 to be saved by consolidation to the taxpayers of Alameda county, and to the $85,000 per annum to be saved by consolidation to the taxpayers of Berkeley, under your assumption that Berkeley pays 17.8 per cent of the cost of Alameda county's government. And both sums are very conservative.

Can I get a plain answer from you to one plain question, viz.: Don't you, as a lawyer and a business man, know, as everybody else does, that for instance, by purchasing agent for a consolidated city and county of Alameda will save hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to the overburdened taxpayers?

For you must know that there is now one purchasing agent for the county of Alameda, one each for the city of Oakland and Oakland's school department, and one for Berkeley, and one for Alameda city, besides 40-50 school districts all independently purchasing supplies. All of which will be supplanted by one purchasing agent under consolidation.

Pardon me for saying it, but, some way or other, you do remind me of the Artful Dodger.

GEORGE C. PARDEE, President, Alameda County Charter League.

BOY SCOUT DRIVE OPENS; $25,000 IS GOAL SOUGHT

Daily Luncheon of Campaign Leaders Will Receive News of Progress.

Today marks the beginning of the Boy Scout drive for funds. The organization seeks $25,000 with which to run the Oakland council of Scouts for another year, and in every part of the city today committees and Scouts are "scouting" for the money.

They gathered at Hotel Oakland at noon today for their first luncheon, at which they made their final plans and indicated what work had been accomplished on the first morning of the drive.

Tomorrow at the same time they will assemble at Hotel Oakland for luncheon and to give their first complete report on the results of the initial 24 hours of the campaign.

Each day thereafter during the week they will meet at luncheon and the figures for the previous 24 hours will be made public and added to the former total. Headquarters will be established at the Hotel Oakland, where team men and captains may receive instructions and report on progress made.

Abe Leach, head of the campaign team and president of the Oakland council of Scouts, will preside at each luncheon and will take an active part in handling the details of the drive. The organization of which he has charge consists of five divisions, each with a well known Oakland business man as leader, and more than a score of teams, each with a captain and seven men. More than 200 of Oakland's representative business men make up the personnel. They are all in the field, prosecuting the drive with their own efforts. Each team is in rivalry against every other team to bring in the largest

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau of Information

A TRIBUNE reader writes in to the Information Bureau to inquire: "Would you kindly let me know what I can do for something that is called my cabbage leaves? I can't see anything on them but the leaves are all full of small holes."

It all depends on what is making the little holes in your cabbage leaves. If it is the aphids, use the tobacco spray and if the cut worms, a poison bait made as follows and sprinkled around underneath the cabbage plants, being careful that there are no chickens in or around where the plants are to eat the bait: 1 pound white arsenic, 2 quarts molasses, 2 or 3 ground oranges, 25 pounds bran, 4 gallons water, or enough to mix the above mixture well. Dissolve the arsenic in the molasses and some lukewarm water, then add the oranges and water and mix well with the bran. Allow about 10-20 pounds of the above mixture to the acre.

If the writer will take a leaf of one of the cabbage plants to the office of the County Farm Adviser in Hayward, he will be very glad to assist him further in this cause.

Another reader asks: "Is there an information department in the City Hall in the large cities of California?" There is no such department. Here is another query that came in today: "I want to find out whether my spouse has got a divorce, without having to address him, or letting him know my whereabouts. Can it be done, and how?"

It will be necessary to write to the county clerk in every county in the state. The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or local problems, debates, trade and firm names and queries as to the time of day.

The Bureau is open every day, except Sunday, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. If answers are desired by mail stamps must be enclosed. Quickest results can be obtained by telephoning to the Bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve ask The TRIBUNE Information Bureau, Lakeside 6909.

WATER COMPANY GIVES CITY STRIP FOR BOULEVARD

Over Six Acres in Property Deeded for Skyline Highway.

George H. Wilhelm, vice-president and general manager of the East Bay Water Company, this morning completed arrangements for deeding to the City of Oakland a strip of land 4964 84 feet in length and sixty feet wide, the right-of-way for the proposed extension of the skyline boulevard.

The roadway will extend through the East Bay Water company's property from the end of the present highway at the head of Shattuck's Canyon, southeast along the ridge to the southern boundary of the Canyon Ridge. There are 6.13 acres in the property deeded to the city by the water company.

Engineers who have surveyed the proposed skyline boulevard through the East Bay Water company's property from the end of the present highway to the proposed terminal on the Joaquin Miller road at a point opposite the head of Thirty-ninth avenue in East Oakland, say it will be one of the finest scenic roadways in the world when completed. The roadway will encircle the proposed chain of Municipal Parks as the principal speaker. His subject will be "Strengthening and Physical Fitness of School Children."

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair.

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair in the best. Most soaps are prepared with harsh chemicals that strip the hair of its natural oils, leaving it dry and brittle. The best thing for steady use is Mulisified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonful of Mulisified will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It removes an abundance of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair grows quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulisified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulisified.—Advertisement.

CATHOLIC FAIR AT PLEASANTON BREAKS RECORD

Handsome Sum Is Realized for Much Needed Work On Church.

PLEASANTON, Oct. 10.—The Catholic bazaar which was concluded late Saturday evening was one of the biggest successes of the kind held in a long time. Not in six years have the people of this community been called upon to respond to such a festival and to the generous patrons who made the bazaar the financial success it was, the ladies of St. Augustine's church feel most grateful.

The bazaar opened Friday evening with a generous supply of articles, infinite in variety and design, on hand, and at midnight Saturday, everything was disposed of and the big special donations and the fortunate winners announced.

Foresters' hall was the scene of the event and five attractive booths were placed about the hall, each with a corps of workers to help the chairman in charge. Local artists assisted in arranging the various booths whose decorative schemes were a pleasing suggestion of the autumnal festival spirit.

The fancywork booth, in charge of Mrs. Mary Judge, was bright with autumn foliage and grapes, while the plain sewing table, with Mrs. Annie T. Johnston as chairman, carried out a Japanese effect, with pink and green working out a beautiful design which made her booth one greatly admired.

Miss Marcella Schween and a coterie of young ladies dispensed refreshments and candy, together with plants and flowers, from a large booth whose decorations were in red and green. Not only were the flowers in these shades used artistically, but the booth in crepe paper, combined red balloons and plants all combined for a delightful effect.

Pumpkins, apples, tall corn stalks and boxes of fruit were grouped about the market booth where the ladies of the Dublin parish dispensed market products to purchasers with a kind salesmanship, and this booth was very popular during the two days of the fair. With the big success completed, the women will meet very soon and discuss the closing details and report to the parish. They feel satisfied that the proceeds will more than pay for the work they have in mind and that the many improvements contemplated, such as painting the church and parish house, will be taken care of.

Saturday evening, October 22, has been set aside as the date for the Pleasanton meeting of the Farmers' Protective association. This will be a special meeting for the purpose of meeting the members of the association who reside in this city or its environs, and becoming better acquainted with the manner in which the association can be of importance to the Livermore valley will be discussed and the meeting will be held in the Odd Fellows' hall at 8 o'clock. The effort is being made to bring all the association members of the valley together for the meeting and to start things going for a big year.

Crop of Petitions Swamps Reichstag

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—The right initiative adopted by the constitution of the German republic to private citizens has produced a crop of petitions to the reichstag which is threatening to overwhelm the commission charged with their examination.

In announcing the coming show those in charge have included the Baldwin ranch among the notable exhibitors.

Plans for the Development of County to Be Discussed by Ranchers.

TRACY, Oct. 10.—The Tracy farm bureau will hold its fall rally meeting tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the high school. Secretary Neil Fabian has sent out notices of the meeting to all the members and all others who are interested in the farmer's life and problems are welcome to come, so that there should be a good crowd present.

Tracy is a newly developing section and there are several matters which the farmers should settle at this meeting. One is the production of the same kind of farm products, whether hay, fruit, grapes, vegetables, etc., by a number of farmers so that they can be marketed together in large lots; or a cannery or packing house can be put up to handle certain of them. Another matter is a free market in Tracy, of which need was felt this year.

Collector Held On Embezzling Charge

STOCKTON, Oct. 10.—Charged with embezzlement, Walter Plantz, a collector for the Newman laundry, was released on bail of $1000 today. The charges were preferred by his employer, S. C. Vanatta, who declared Plantz was a trustworthy collector. It is believed he embezzled a total of $400. Police declare he admits a shortage of $100.

CONSOLIDATION TOPIC

ALAMEDA, Oct. 10.—The Chamber of Commerce will hold a meeting to discuss consolidation Wednesday night. The opening of the Y. M. C. A. extension will also be a subject for discussion.

Boy Is Accidentally Killed by Brother

BILLINGS, Mont., Oct. 10.—Grant McNay, 10 years old, son of a local hotel proprietor, was accidentally shot and killed by a younger brother at Belmont's Saturday afternoon. The two boys with a third companion were hunting. Grant had fired a shotgun they were carrying and reloaded it. His brother, not knowing the gun had been reloaded, picked it up and fired it at him, the load striking him in the groin, according to a special despatch received here.

THE HARD TASK OF GETTING DETAILS FROM COUNTY-DIVISION LEADERS

Repeated efforts have been made to obtain from the leaders of the movement to divide Alameda County, under the pretense of aiming at consolidation, details of the economies they allege would follow approval of the "consolidation" charter.

In THE TRIBUNE of Sunday a communication from Dr. George C. Pardee, chairman of the Alameda County Charter League, was printed. Dr. Pardee has assumed a leading speaking position among the advocates of the "consolidation" charter. He had asserted that a saving of at least $500,000 annually was possible under that charter. Mr. Max Thelen, former chairman of the State railway commission, and others asked for details as to how this saving would be brought about. Dr. Pardee so far has evaded the duty of giving these details.

He also has based his calculations on the assumption that every city, town and school district in the county will join in the consolidation project, which he and every other advocate of the scheme know to be impossible of realization.

In his letter in the Sunday TRIBUNE Dr. Pardee divided his $500,000 claim into eleven different items. One item, "purchasing agents," accounted for half his estimate, or for $250,000.

Details as to how this saving would be effected would be interesting, and the failure to give them is lamentable. The total of all the salaries of purchasing agents in the several cities and the county at present make up only a small fraction of this amount. If all the offices were consolidated the administrative cost would not be significantly less and it might be larger than at present.

Probably Dr. Pardee intends this item to cover the claim that by joining all the purchases of official supplies under one office the supplies could be bought more cheaply. This is merely an unverified hope. Under the present system all material of a value in excess of $500 is bought on public bids and these bids are scrutinized by elected officials. The public interest is much more strongly safeguarded than it would be if all the purchasing business was placed in the hands of one man employed by a city manager.

In any event, Dr. Pardee utterly ignores the obligation to give details as to how his alleged saving of $250,000 may be effected. He is only making a guess and he might as well have guessed a million as a quarter million.

The same fault lies with Dr. Pardee's items of alleged possible savings in the various offices—district attorney, auditor, assessor, etc. He writes a list of savings possible "by abolishing a lot of overlapping and unnecessary city officials and having the work done by one city and county official instead of several of each." By his statement Dr. Pardee proclaims that one city and county official would do the work of the present offices of district attorney, auditor, assessor, constables, tax collector, city council, mayors, justices of the peace, and purchasing agents.

This statement may be deliberately disingenuous, but, being charitable, we ask the reader to believe that Dr. Pardee has merely scrambled his English. It would be a waste of time to consider such an absurdity as the claim that one city and county official would perform the service now rendered by all the offices mentioned. What Dr. Pardee presumably had in mind was that one office of each department of the public service would under the new system perform the work which city and county offices now combine in doing. The provisions of the proposed charter concerning public offices support this assumption.

But even this liberal interpretation of Dr. Pardee's letter leaves THE TRIBUNE, as it must leave every citizen, entirely in the dark as to how the items of alleged savings were arrived at. His basis of calculation is a secret which he persists in withholding from the public. Assuming that he has a foundation to build upon, why should he shroud it with mystery and utter the fatuous demand that his claims be disproved.

What should be the rule covering estimates of savings under one system of government as compared with another? The plain answer must immediately occur to the mind of every citizen. There is but one forthright way. It is to take the exact cost of one office or department of government and compare it with the corresponding office in the other government. The difference is either a saving or a loss and the sum of the differences will be the total saving or loss under the new system. The advocates of the "consolidation" scheme shun this method.

WHY DEFINITE FIGURES CANNOT BE FURNISHED.

There is a reason for their tactics. The sections of the proposed charter are so indefinite, so vague and allow such wide powers of discretion to the city manager, the metropolitan council and several boards that it is utterly impossible to approximate the cost. There is practically no limit to the number of deputies, assistants, "experts" and employees that may be engaged at the expense of the taxpayers. Take note of a few typical provisions of the proposed charter:

Except as otherwise provided the Metropolitan council shall have the power to fix the number of all officers and employees of the city and county, to fix their compensation when not fixed by charter, and to create departments, offices and employments. (Sec. 10.)

Whenever the necessity therefor demands the Metropolitan council may, upon the recommendation of the Presiding Judge, provide for additional judges of the municipal court. (Sec. 52.)

The Presiding Judge, with the consent of the judges of the said court, shall establish such departments of said municipal court as may be convenient. (Sec. 53.)

Upon the opinion of the Metropolitan Council, the business of said office warrants, the council may allow the District Attorney additional assistants and employees and fix their compensation. All of these assistants and employees shall be appointed by the district attorney and hold office at his pleasure. (Sec. 61.)

The auditor shall appoint, subject to civil service, such deputies, assistants, clerks and stenographers as may be provided by the Metropolitan council. (Sec. 62.)

The assessor shall appoint, subject to civil service, such deputies, assistants, clerks and stenographers as may be provided by the Metropolitan council. (Sec. 67.)

Sheriff and such additional constables as may be provided by the Metropolitan council. (Sec. 70.)

The City Attorney shall appoint and may suspend or remove such assistants, deputies, clerks, stenographers and other persons as the Metropolitan council may provide. Such assistance shall not be subject to civil service. (Metropolitan council may provide special counsel as may be necessary.) (Sec. 82.)

Director of Public Works. The department shall be organized into a Division of Roads, Streets and Sewers, a Division of Building Permits, a Division of Electricity and such other divisions as may be deemed necessary. (Sec. 91.)

The Board of Health shall have the power to create other divisions of the work under its jurisdiction. Employees shall be appointed by the board and not subject to civil service. (Sec. 122.)

Thus it is palpably impossible for Dr. Pardee or anyone else to make anything but a guess at the cost of the proposed new scheme of government would be to the taxpayers. The figures which have been given are in the main only hopes, dreams and vote-seducing fancies.

And there is an omission that casts a serious doubt upon the sincerity of the advocates of the new scheme. There is no mention of the cost of the additional office of city manager, who is to receive a minimum salary of $12,000 a year and who may possibly get $25,000; or of the cost of his staff of assistants, experts and employees which he has unlimited power to create.

THE TRIBUNE has due sympathy for the difficulties attached to predicting the saving which may be possible under a new scheme of government. It comprehends those difficulties. If they were not insuperable THE TRIBUNE would itself present to the people of Oakland exact and indisputable figures of comparative costs.

It is recalled that when the present city charter of Oakland was pending in 1910, when Dr. Pardee was a member of the freeholders' committee, speaking in advocacy of the charter, the claim was made, and resolutions were passed by organizations predicting that it would bring about certain economies of government. But that prediction was not fulfilled in practice. In 1910, when the present charter was submitted and its adoption urged, the city tax rate was $1.26; in 1915 the tax rate was $1.98; in 1921 it is $2.25. In ten years the tax rate nearly doubled. This is said in no criticism of the present charter or the men who framed it; but it is interesting to note that Dr. Pardee was an unsound prophet upon another occasion.

Now all of this, and there is over-much of it, is addressed to a false assumption, but with the kindly purpose of humoring the advocates of the new charter. It is their assumption in argument that the scheme of government proposed will be adopted for the entire county of Alameda. In reality they know perfectly well there is not the remotest possibility that the charter will be adopted by the entire county.

They know, Dr. Pardee among them—and everybody else knows—that Berkeley and Alameda and the up-country districts will vote down the "consolidation" scheme. They know that Berkeley and Alameda will reject consolidation and remain out of the scheme. They know that the whole question resolves itself into a monstrous proposition for a city and county of Oakland alone.

In reality, the advocates of "consolidation" would impose a plot of major county division that would bind upon a city and county of Oakland the whole expensive government designed for the entire county and all the cities in it. Any prediction of savings based on a county-wide consolidation is misleading and insincere.

The national director of prohibition enforcement declares he will make Chicago as dry as a desert. Others have made their threats of reforming Chicago, but the windy city always manages to blow along just about as it chooses, regardless of the efforts of outsiders.

NOTES and COMMENT

Editor MacKinder of the St. Helena Star is sojourning in the East, and writes thus to his newspaper: "I met a man the other day and he asked me: 'How is California?' I said: 'Great! California is a great state!' He said: 'You Californians all talk alike. You have a great state and appear perfectly satisfied.' I couldn't pick any quarrel with him. I asked a man the population of Marion, and he said that it is about 2500. I saw he was making a pretty high estimate so when he asked me the population of St. Helena, I told him that it is about 2000. In real figures there are 2100 people in Marion."

Personal mention from the Karnes County (Texas) News: "Chris and Waddie Rauch of Robstown were here several days last week visiting relatives and old friends. While here they called on the News man and had their figures shoved ahead. In speaking of their town they said their chamber of commerce was second to none in the state according to population. They also stated that Neuces was the banner cotton producing county of Texas this year, having already gleaned more than 50,000 bales. Chris belongs to the long staple club."

There is reckless driving up at Alameda, judging from this from the Mail-Tribune: "On the Main Stem speedway Wednesday a free-for-all dash for milk wagons was held. The situation is fast getting to the point where if the drivers don't break their own necks, outside assistance will be rendered. One of these days blood, water and milk are going to mix. The general public urgently favors the use of all four wheels of a lactical vehicle at the corners."

The Stockton Record takes account of a local instance: "Let all and sundry beware of the golden chains of matrimony take warning from the Oakland man, aged 40, who turned on the gas because, though he had $29,000, he had neither wife nor child nor home, and considered that his had been a misspent life."

Kelseyville correspondence, Lakeport Bee: "Ezra Burgett returned to his new home in Berkeley, which he recently exchanged for. The other party in the deal will soon bring his family here to the ranch at the foot of Uncle Sam on Konocott avenue. Their name is Weese."

From the Richmond Record-Herald and concerning frigidity: "The coldest things in the world are a dog's nose, a bed sheet and the man who is worth about $5000 and believes the old home town is too small for a man of his eminent qualifications."

The Chico Enterprise notes how the nation is on the quiver: "Every time the Babe faces a Giant pitcher this week, expectancy permeates the national atmosphere and hope of a home run perches on 10,000 bulletin boards."

The Woodland Democrat seems able to get satisfaction out of the prospect: "The group of Republican insurgents in Congress seems to be increasing in numbers. There is a corduroy road ahead."

The San Bernardino Sun discusses a probability: "By the time the Arbuckle case reaches the court trial stage the chief witnesses should be able to remember very little of what they knew so much about in the beginnings."

The Red Bluff News is the booster: "Can't beat Alameda. With two pairs of twins, the longest causeway in the county and a bank, the Antelope Center is invincible."

The "Chooose Chico" motto has been slightly altered by west-side people to "Cheese, Chico."—Red Bluff News.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS.

Thousands of unemployed are expected to flock here this winter. Their presence in California, where some of our own people are out of work, will constitute a real problem. Many of those coming will be floaters. Others will have left good jobs because they could not draw war-time wages. But it is likely there will be no doubt about their need and that something will have to be done for their relief. The relief rather than charity.—Watsonville Register.

Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture has sent out a notice that he hopes will come to the attention of all farmers proud of their farm development. He wants them to know that they can patent the name of their farm and establish a patented standard of quality for their produce.—San Bernardino Sun.

The aerial forest patrol service in California located 500 fires and covered 18,000,000 square miles during the past year. There were but three fatalities among the scores of aviators engaged in the work. It is perhaps too early to tell whether the forest fires are being kept under control, but the number of forest fires so far has been very small.—Stockton Record.

It is considered a good rule never to throw away an envelope without first holding it up to the light. There may be money or a check in it. Not so long ago, a considerable sum in fees was rescued from envelopes in the waste-baskets of the California Motor Vehicles Department.—Sacramento Bee.

The California Packing Corporation has sold its two bean cleaners and warehouse facilities in Stockton to the Haslett Warehouse Company of San Francisco, which also operates a string of warehouses in the bay city, headed by the Gibraltar warehouse. The California Packing Corporation has gone out of the dried bean business.—Byzantine Times.

Bavaria's Split With Prussia

Munich leaps ahead of Berlin as the premier date line of Central Europe.
Bavaria emerges to dispel the illusion that Prussia spells Germany. Conceivably the land of Wagner, toy making, brewing and lenses may achieve a political unity which suffered a "fade away" when William was crowned emperor in that hall at Versailles where, more recently, another William was consigned to the limbo of ex-monarchy. "Were major problems affecting us and our national friends not pressing so hard upon us, Americans might be paying considerably more heed to the renewal of an old time internal strife in Germany which has potentialities, at least for further making the map of Europe," says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society, concerning news despatches that tell how Munich is locking horns with Berlin.

"Many folk who abhor Germany's war ways, and Prussia's ways at any time, soften their rancor with the admission that Bavaria is not Prussia. Bavaria always has been a clamorous about that distinction, and it is not surprising that she should be anxious to limit the cleavage on the political map of Europe now that Prussia has suffered so complete an eclipse.

"Should Bavaria embark upon a career of 'self determination' within the bounds of the German Republic, she would have one important factor in her favor—a factor that might be called 'geographical determination.' For Bavaria has a natural boundary of mountains and squats with this security upon an elevated plateau where the soil is fertile, certain minerals abound, and vast forests, not so many years ago over-run with bears and boars, are to be counted among her natural assets.

"Bavaria proper is split by the now internationalized waters of the Danube. Besides her capital she possesses Nuremberg, Augsburg, Würzburg, and Regensburg, or Ratisbon, and would break the monotony of the 'burg' suffix. 'Bavaria proper' connotes the eleven-twelfths of the Bavarian kingdom bounded, in part, by Czechoslovakia, Austria, Switzerland, Württemberg and Saxony. This portion of it is somewhat larger than West Virginia. The rest of the kingdom, nearly twice the size of Rhode Island, is separate from the main part, lying across the Rhine, within the area of the present zone of allied occupation.

"Temperament and religion distinguish Bavaria from Prussia. About three-fourths of its population, upward of seven million, are Roman Catholics. Its people have a

A FOGGY MORNING.

The house was cold with a penetrating fog. But it was slowly lifting, and the better to get the warm sunlight I went to the east lawn. My knitting did not interfere with my watching the flitting butterflies and the robins and sparrows hopping about, from enjoying the rose garden and the ivy-covered arbor—the plants banked against the house, a mass of bloom, the lemon and orange trees and the tall palms.

The tap-tap of a cane, the soft shuffle of slipper-foot on the pavement, and a little old man passed by, his eyes blinking in the struggling sunshine.
Polly, the big green parrot, called to me "Hello!"—then whistled and sang a strain from a popular song; then cried and sobbed so like a child, that the first time I heard her I hurried to the lawn to give assistance to some supposedly heart-broken little one.

Ruth's kitten came loudly purring and rubbed against my dress, while Pug growled as he always did when Pug attempted to share my friendship.

Bob, the yellow canary, listened respectfully but critically to a robin in the hedge, then broke forth into song that nearly broke the little throat.

Just then the great golden sun shot triumphantly through the fog, making gorgeously brilliant the peace, plenty and beauty all about me.

What YOUR HEALTH

Why Feeding From a Bottle Should Be Taught Every Baby

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Being a good mother is a serious business. Like any other business, it must be studied and mastered. Its many details must be learned. There never was a worth-while undertaking that did not have unpleasant complications, and puzzling emergencies.

Motherhood is not exempt. It has its joys and its moments of exaltation, but, in turn, it has its periods of worry, of anxiety and of breathless suspense.

Today I want to bring together a lot of "odds and ends" of difficulties, and to advise you about a number of things essential to your happiness and the physical prosperity of your baby.

I shall assume you are taking care of a nursing infant, a very young one at that, and perhaps it is your first baby.

To be well and thriving, your child must have a healthy mouth. This necessitates cleanliness of the mouth. Don't let the baby suck his thumb, a dirty rubber nipple, or a dirty rubber "pacifier." Have things that are within his reach absolutely clean.

You should have boracic acid solution to clean baby's mouth. Boracic acid solution is made by adding one tablespoonful of boracic acid crystals to half a pint of boiled water. A fresh solution should be prepared every two or three days.

In addition, you should have a package of sterilized absorbent cotton. Wrap a small swab of cotton over your index finger. Pour over this, in order to saturate it, some of the boracic acid solution. Then carefully wipe out the mouth of your child. Do not try to reach every part of the mouth, gums and cheeks with the first swab. Two or three swabs, prepared and used in the same way as the first, will accomplish your purpose.

The mouth of the child cannot be clean unless the breast and nipples of the mother are clean and healthy. The care of the breast is one of the most important and important duties of motherhood. The neglect of a slight abrasion, or fissure, or crack of the skin, caused perhaps by a bruise from the vigorous jaws of the lively baby, may be the beginning of serious trouble. The breast should be bathed with the boracic acid solution, before and after each feeding. If there is a crack, or fissure, the doctor will use an astringent and advise a nipple shield.

If for any reason your child does not nurse regularly and thus thoroughly empty the gland, the breast may become inflamed. It is a matter of mutual necessity to have regular hours of feeding, which must be religiously observed if both mother and child are to thrive.

Your baby must be taught to nurse properly. If he is fed too fast, or too often, or if he is handled too much before or after feeding, the child will vomit. If this happens too frequently, the child becomes undernourished, thin and colicky.

There arise emergencies where it may be necessary to give the child the bottle. The mother might be ill, or the breast may become inflamed. On this account the infant should be taught to feed from the bottle. Then, in case of necessity, the child will not suffer during his bottle instruction period.

Between feedings, or just before his breast feeding, the bottle may be prepared, placing it in plain hot water—just so hot as to scald, but not so hot as to burn. An anti-colic rubber nipple is used. The infant is encouraged to take one tablespoonful of water in this way. Do not give more because it will spoil the feeding.

Clock-work regularity in feeding your baby is the routine that makes for good health in mother and child.

A FIRE PREVENTION DAY.
President Harding has found time amid the many executive duties to make a wise and far sighted recommendation to all the people of the United States. He issues a general proclamation urging the Governors of all the States to designate October 10, the anniversary of the Chicago fire, as a "fire prevention day," when "instructive and educational exercises and direct addresses through pulpits, forum and the schools" shall bring forcibly to public attention the "calamitous effects and threatened economic disaster of such unnecessary fire waste" as still curses our nation.

Systematic courses of training in the schools and frequent reiteration of the duty of fire prevention as a factor in all good citizenship are expected to be effective in greatly lessening general carelessness the importance of such a conservation measure is literally in blazing evidence. The base of all safeguards is the maxim that "fire is a peril that never sleeps."

Many duties lie before Americans just now. None is more obvious than that of preventing needless waste from fire. It is rudimentary good sense, and all citizens should heed the warning.—New York Sun.

FIGHT TO BAR GARAGE FROM PERMIT LOST

Harrison Street District Held to Be in Business Area; City Buys Lot for Auxiliary Corporation Yards

Over the protests of several residence owners, the city council today granted permission to the Cross Investment company to erect a garage at 1493 Harrison street after arguments had been advanced for and against the proposition. The council finally decided that this was a business district and that one more would not cause inconvenience.

"The Chamber of Commerce believes in encouraging building," said Joseph E. Chase of the chamber, "and this $30,000 garage means something just now. We believe that residences cannot stay very long in this district anyhow. When Seventeenth street is cut through, there will be a tendency for business houses to concentrate on this street."

The council appropriated $400 to buy a lot on the west side of Viola street near Alameda avenue to store street repair materials. This, it is intended, will be an auxiliary corporation yard.

A request by the Merchants' Exchange for a conference toward reducing fire insurance rates was referred to Commissioner Colbourne. The exchange asserted that Oakland has been promised a five per cent reduction if it changes some building ordinances, puts in additional fire alarms, and appoints a fire marshal. Action in the near future is asked by the exchange.

A report by the poundmaster was submitted, showing that there were collected, during September, 122 dogs, two horses, six goats and 35 cats.

Pastor Hikes Into Alameda to Take Over New Charge

ALAMEDA, Oct. 10.—Hiking into Alameda from Drake University, in Des Moines, the Rev. C. D. Wells arrived in time to occupy the pulpit of the Alameda Christian Church yesterday morning.

The hiking pastor left Des Moines July, 1920, and has been "hoboing" around between that place and his pastorate in the meantime, in order to gain a more intimate insight into human character and the ways of the ordinary people.

The new pastor is 23 years old. He has announced that he is starting a "pleasure campaign" in his church.

California, according to the pastor, goes in for pleasure and it is his intention to use this spirit in developing his church to its fullest. Clean movies, hikes and social entertainments will be featured.

Woman Ill; Makes Attempt At Suicide

BERKELEY, Oct. 10.—Firing a shot into her body yesterday, Mrs. Marian C. McNulty, 43 years old, wife of Charles R. McNulty, salesman, of 1622 Spruce street, is in a serious condition today at Temple hospital.

Despondency over ill health is given as the reason for Mrs. McNulty's action. According to McNulty, he and his wife were preparing to go to the theater yesterday afternoon and the latter had gone upstairs for her hat when the shot rang out from Mrs. McNulty's bedroom.

Rushing to his wife's room, McNulty said he found Mrs. McNulty sitting on the bed with the revolver in her hand. Mrs. McNulty was rushed to Temple hospital, where the bullet was found to have entered the left breast and passed entirely through her body.

No comment on the shooting would be made by McNulty except to say that he and his wife had no family troubles.

Airman Plunges 400 Feet to His Death

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 10.—Lloyd Reese of New York, an aerial performer, fell 400 feet to his death while attempting to pass from one airplane to another in midair. The accident occurred in full view of several thousand spectators at Lake View airfield.

EUROPE BLEED BY GOUGERS, SAYS TUTOR

Professor Ehrlich, of U. C., Returning From Journey, Says Profiteering Rampant in Countries Hit by War

BERKELEY, Oct. 10.—Egotism and profiteering are rampant in Europe today, declares Ludwig Ehrlich, professor of political science at the university, who has recently returned from Poland, where he was instructor in constitutional law at the University of Law for the last year. Only the unscrupulous are wealthy

AUTUMN WILL BE WELCOMED AT BIG FETE IN CANYON

BERKELEY, Oct. 10.—Autumn will be formally welcomed by Berkeleyans Saturday when a Harvest Moon Festival is held at Codornices park, under the auspices of the Codornices Improvement Club.

From 4 to 9 p. m. visitors will be welcome. With the coming of dusk big fires will be lighted in the outdoor canyon theater at the park and amid the moonlight shadows pretty college maids will dance in interpreting "The Spirit of Autumn" fantasy arranged by Mrs. Charles C. Boynton.

Dialogue, vivid costumes, music, dancing and song will be mingled in the pageant. Berkeleyans and all others interested have been invited to carry their suppers with them and eat them around bonfires. Hiking togs will be correct attire for the event. Brief addresses will be given by Mayor Louis Bartlett, President John W. Gregg of the park board and other city officials.

"To promote a general community interest, to create a spirit of fellowship and good will and to welcome activities of members in furthering creative, artistic and dramatic impulses," is given as the object of the fete. The proceeds of the festival will go toward completing Codornices clubhouse, now being built by community effort.

AMERICAN BURGLARS? LONDON, Oct. 10.—Burglars who broke into the residence of Sir Lawrence Phillips, Berkeley Square, opened a dozen bottles of Scotch whisky before they decamped with their loot.

while the economic position of the educated is far worse than at any time since the war, the professor declares.

Contrasting the selfish attitude of Europeans with his conception of American spirit, Professor Ehrlich said, "Kindness, sincerity and a manifest friendship of man to man is the spirit which stands out on the horizon of humanity in America. I know of no other place where this attitude is so marked as in California."

RESEARCH QUESTION. "Intellectual workers, especially those in the field of research, seem unable to earn an adequate living because of the difficulties of organization and of poor compensation offered the quiet and conscientious worker in Europe. There is promise that America will soon take the lead in research work as she is doing already in many branches.

"I believe that the time is here when the importance of women in research work will be recognized as equal to that of men. This is a field which requires a sacrifice because of its intensive nature and a woman is more ready to sacrifice herself to a career than a man."

AT OXFORD EXERCISES. Professor Ehrlich attended the commencement exercises at Oxford University in 1920 which marked the first awarding of degrees to women there. In Polish universities women may take all degrees which are offered to the men. This is true in English universities with the exception of Cambridge.

The University of California is known in England, according to Professor Ehrlich, for its efficient faculty work, the way in which it takes care of various difficult problems of organizing studies, and the type of graduates turned out.

Berkeley Pioneer Dies At Age of 86

BERKELEY, Oct. 10.—In his 86th year, Thomas Hiram Thomas, pioneer Californian who crossed the plains from Kentucky 87 years ago, died yesterday at his home, 2206 Dwight way. Thomas, who drove one of five ox teams filled with Kentuckians across the plains, settled in Sacramento county, where he ranched until his retirement some years ago.

Surviving Thomas is one son, L. E. Thomas of Berkeley, four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

He was an uncle of Dr. C. A. Meek of Berkeley.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the family home, with Rev. J. W. Kelsey officiating.

Daily ALMANAC

by Ad Schuster

MONDAY, OCTOBER 10.

The last Colonial governor of Massachusetts packed his grip and sailed for England in 1775. It was in 1791 that a gentleman with an appropriate name for a sewing machine inventor was born. As a matter of fact, though, he invented a rope-making machine and his name was Daniel Treadwell. George P. Morris, at one time called "The Song Writer of America," was born in 1802. Flood Rock, in Hell Gate, out of New York, was destroyed by dynamite in 1885.

From the municipal wood-yard a friend telephones that the national song of the Japanese is "I love you California."

I've read Thelen and Gibson and Pardee, Lavenson, Davis and Tardy; And if I were smarter I'd save the charter And now do I get it? Well, hardly.

CORISANDE HAS A LITTLE SUMMER

Dear Sir: We write to you in some perplexity. Several months ago we acquired an infant and while we have now grown fairly accustomed to his eccentricities, there are times when we wish we understood his mechanism better. For instance, yesterday we detected the action of our home in a earnest and determined effort to execute certain movements which, in terpsichorean circles, are designated as the Shimmy and, feeling that he was rather youthful to be encouraged in this endeavor, we thought to assign him a task. Sir, will you believe that after we had diagnosed his ailment successfully as colic, cholera morbus, dysentery, lumbago and acute peritonitis, the doctor pronounced it prickly heat?

Humbly yours,

Corisande.

FRESH FROM THE FRONT

By Luther Chiblain (Special to The Almanac.)
New York, Oct. 7. They will begin in six and seven-eighths minutes. Sniffy McGurk, who once drank Jake Ruppert's beer, has just entered the bleachers. Sniffy is wearing hip-boots and a sombrero. People wonder why. At least, I wonder why, so I assume all others present do likewise. How could they do other than? By the way, a lot of baseball players are on the field warming up. It is my suspicion a baseball game is by way of beginning to come into being.

Just ahead of this reporter Fred Toney is warming up. His easy pitch would knock you senseless, if you were senseless enough to get in the way.

Baseball is simple. Einstein or an editorial writer could understand it, if he tried. Did we tell you that there is grass in the outfield? (This is written for infants, sane men and women will despise it.)

Why should a man run 120 yards to get to the place he started from? This writer could suggest many improvements in baseball. Napoleon did not like crabs, because he wanted nothing but sixes on one cube and aces on the other; and he wanted the privilege of shooting first.

Napoleon has nothing to do with this game but it doesn't hurt to repeat that his ideas and mine coincide. "Gurgie, Gurgie, Gub." Somebody, who instigated this writing, said "Try to make it different." And there yare, the first quotation from a discarded near-beer bottle you ever saw in a baseball report. If you have not already done so, turn elsewhere in the paper and find an account of the game.

Dead Language: "Haven't you something a little higher price?" It may be that men use perfume because it is cheaper than a bathtub.

The man with a pile is the mau who can smile when everything goes dead wrong.

The best treatment for that run-down feeling is to bring suit against the owner of the automobile.

Now old King Coal calls for his bowl in order to measure out a dollar's worth.

The man who says money now goes farther probably means that one must go to greater lengths to get it.

If there's a face on the barroom floor now, it is probably down there sniffling at the suds of yesteryear.

The winter apples are unusually juicy, and the farmer's lot isn't the only thing in rural sections that is hard.

"Congressman Almost Gored by Bull."—Headline. It is evident, however, that none of them are ever gored by bull.

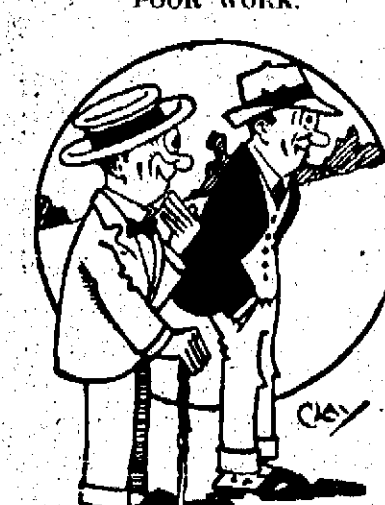

While envying the greatest fortune in the world, it might be well to remember the eighty-two years that go with it.

Can it be that we have reached the point where men must wear masks before daring to declare that laws must be enforced?

When some of these reformers urge the world to turn over a new leaf, we are reminded that a crank is what you turn things with.

When that Washington conference gets into full swing, it will be just like some crude person to mention the matter of disarmament.

Secretary Davis urges us to trust one another. Hard experience has proved that there is no profit in trying to bust one another.

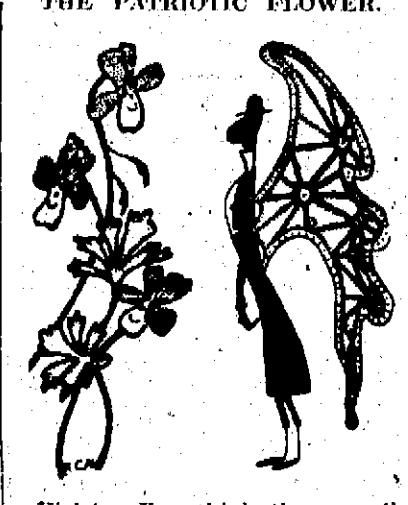

"I am a self-made man." "What is your excuse for the poor construction—scarcity of materials, or high wages?"

ENTERTAINING MOTHER.

Mr. Pester: It's foolish for you to give your mother a phonograph for a birthday gift. You know she's so deaf she can't hear a sound.

His wife: I know, but I bought a lot of those funny monologue records for her and you know she's clever at lip reading.

Violent: You think the rose the prettiest flower, we know; but which is the most patriotic? Butterfly: The flag, of course—long may it wave!

OAKLAND BAKERS PROMISE CUT IN PRICE OF BREADReduction to Come When the Matter of Wages Is Adjusted.

The price of bread in San Francisco was reduced today to the level that has obtained for some time in the Eastbay cities. Announcement that an adjustment had been made with the bakers' unions preceded the cut which places the standard sized loaf on the market for 14 cents. In Oakland this loaf is sold for from 12 to 14 cents, the 13-cent price being most common.

The East Bay Manufacturing Bakers' Association issued a statement today in which they promise a lower price of bread when an adjustment for which negotiations are now pending is made. The statement says:

The San Francisco bakers and unions agreed on a wage adjustment which became effective October 1. A price reduction in San Francisco takes place today. We are negotiating with the unions for an adjustment in wage scales, and when this is effected a lower price of bread will be obtained.

At the headquarters of the Bakers' Union in Oakland it was pointed out that the price of bread here had been lower than that in San Francisco for months. No information would be given out concerning the negotiations for a new scale.

Rail Workers Vote
Heavily for Strike

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Additional reductions of wages of railroad workers will make a strike certain, according to rail union heads here today.

The railroad union chiefs met here to consider the vote of their members favoring a walkout rather than accepting the 12 per cent reduction in wages made last July. The official count of the ballots was completed today and was said to favor a strike by a large majority.

According to one of the big four union leaders, the strike vote was not taken with the purpose of calling a walkout as a result of the reduction of last July, but to forestall any further cuts.

WOMEN OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY OF SUFFRAGE GRANTState Right to Ballot Given Them Ten Years Ago; Hayward Meeting Held.

The tenth day of the tenth month, marking the tenth anniversary of granting of equal suffrage in California was celebrated today in Hayward when women from all parts of Alameda county assembled to review the achievements since they were given the right to participate in government. Because of the importance of food in the life of the people, the entire program centered in the theme, "Food and the Women Voters."

The celebration was arranged under the auspices of the department on food supply and demand, California Civic League of Women Voters, Mrs. L. M. Turner, chairman, and was joined in by the state body, the California Federation of Women's Clubs, the California Federation of Housewives' Leagues, the Hayward Chamber of Commerce, the Alameda County Farm bureau, the Agricultural Extension service, department of agriculture, University of California.

WOMEN SPEAKERS.

Mrs. James B. Hume, member of the Republican state committee; Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs; and Mrs. Frank G. Law, president of the California Civic League of Women Voters, were the trio of feminine leaders who recited the past and future of women's participation in public affairs in the state at the "Woman Voters' Day" luncheon at the White Lunch pergia on Dublin boulevard.

"How We Won the Vote" was told by Mrs. Hume. Mrs. Fitzgerald reviewed what 10 years of woman suffrage has meant to California. The future was forecast by Mrs. Law, who spoke on the theme, "What the Women's Vote Is Going to Mean."

The Hayward Chamber of Commerce extended its greetings to the city guests through its president, A. W. Bean. The commercial organization provided the automobiles for the luncheon place and for the afternoon tour of the local food industry.

Dr. E. J. Hume, county chairman of the farm home department, expressed the greetings of the farm bureau.

DISCUSSION OF FOOD.

Food in its relation to the child, to health, to the home, the activities of the farm bureau women and industry were discussed at a mass meeting this morning in the Native Sons' hall, Hayward. Mrs. L. M. Turner presided as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Law. Mrs. Peter J. Kramer, president of Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs; Dr. Adelaide Brown of San Francisco, member of the state board of health; Mrs. Robert Deane of San Francisco, president of the California Federation of Housewives' Leagues; Miss Harriet G. Eddy, state leader of home demonstration, agriculture, extension service, University of California; Russell T. Robinson, farm adviser of Alameda county.

Men of S. F. Scored.

Suffrage to women was given by men of Alameda county rather than by men of San Francisco, according to Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, president of the California Federation of Housewives' League. She said:

"This is the reason that San Francisco men cannot see the time is ripe for a woman supervisor," she commented.

A tribute was offered Mrs. Annette Adams as a representative of her sex, as assistant to the Attorney General of the United States in Washington.

A rise of 2 per cent in food cost in San Francisco last month, while prices all over the country have declined, will be investigated by the Federation of Housewives' League, according to the speaker.

Agriculture can only be made permanent if the home in the agricultural district is permanent and the housewife is satisfied with her condition. Mrs. Harriet G. Eddy, leader of home demonstration, agriculture extension service, University of California, declared.

Would-Be Suicide
Shoots At Ceiling,
Then Throws Fit

WHEN Joe Martinez decided today that he had reasons for committing suicide he placed a bottle of poison and a revolver on a table in front of him.

Then he took the revolver, fired three shots in the ceiling, and had an attack of hysterics. At the Emergency Hospital, where he was taken after the police had been called in, a thorough examination was made by physicians, who reported there was no evidence, that either the revolver or the poison had taken effect. Joe was sent home.

The police say that Martinez had written a note addressed to 1962 Telegraph avenue, where Mrs. E. K. Nutting, widow, said that she knew the man. She said that on Saturday night, while she was walking with another man, she met Martinez and it is believed that jealousy based on this meeting was the cause of the demonstration. In the note Martinez had written, "Don't blame anybody for this act but myself." He refused to make any statement to the police.

INJURED, TOLL OF AUTO SMASHUPSBlind Lawyer Is Killed When Train Hits Machine; Aged Man Succumbs to Hurts.

A series of automobile accidents is responsible for two men being killed today and twelve persons injured.

The dead:

GEORGE LEVINSKY, blind one-eyed attorney, president of the California Powder Company, with head offices in San Francisco and connected with several other business enterprises in the bay district, was killed instantly yesterday when the automobile in which he was riding with three other persons, was struck by a Northwestern Pacific electric train, the accident occurring at the west-end crossing in San Rafael, while Levinsky was on his way to his summer home.

The car was being driven by T. A. Chambers, radio operator at Bolinas, and friend of the attorney. Chambers, it is said, was unable to stop the machine after the train was sighted and attempted to beat the train over the crossing. He was uninjured. Levinsky was about 55 years old and lived at the Hotel Herald in San Francisco with his wife.

ROBERT M. TAYLOR, 75 years old, of 224 Persia avenue, San Francisco, died today at the St. Francis hospital there following an automobile accident September 20. He was run down as he was alighting from a car near his home by a machine driven by Thomas Fitzgibbon of the bay hospital at Palo Alto.

The injured:

Mrs. M. G. Whitaker, housekeeper for Levinsky, was a passenger of the machine when it was struck by the electric train. She was thrown from the approaching train and screamed a warning. When the automobile was struck she was hurled several feet and received internal injuries. Her condition is critical.

Bernard Greenberg, a machinist and friend of Levinsky, was an occupant of the death car and sustained injuries to the head and body in the accident. Greenberg had been recuperating from an illness at Levinsky's summer home in Marin county.

John McGuinn, 880 Forty-first street, Oakland, is in a hospital suffering from a possible fractured skull today as a result of the crash. He was in an automobile driven by J. M. Evans, 1016 Fifty-sixth street, last night at San Pablo avenue and Fortieth street. McGuinn was crossing the street when he was struck by the car. He was taken to the hospital, where he is being treated for a hemorrhage of the left ear and a possible fracture of the skull.

James Gaden, 1948 Broadway, Oakland, the probable victim of an automobile accident, was taken to the Oakland Receiving hospital from Eighty-sixth avenue and East Fourteenth street. He was treated for a laceration on the right cheek and a possible fractured skull. The manner in which he was injured is unknown. Police say he was intoxicated.

Harold J. Kerr, 17, of San Francisco, was slightly injured on the State highway south of San Jose today when an automobile he was driving threw a tire, skidded and overturned at the side of the highway. The accident occurred while Mrs. Martha J. Kerr and her son were traveling south from San Francisco. Kerr sustained several bad cuts and a crushed hand. His mother, however, was thrown clear of the machine as it turned turtle and escaped injury. The machine was badly wrecked.

Forer R. Tate, 1623 Brush street, San Francisco, Mrs. Tate and Jack Hammond, 555 Clayton street, San Francisco, were badly cut and bruised last Saturday night when the automobile in which they were riding collided with a Turk and Eddy street car at Sixth avenue and Geary street, San Francisco. They were taken to the French hospital, where they were treated.

Miss Katherine Brown and N. Aninos, both of San Francisco, were severely injured last Saturday night on the Lakeville highway below Pet-

Museum Exhibits Disappear While In School Study

SLEUTHS are now working through the school department on two cases which are spread around the schools somewhere, but nobody knows where.

The cases were lent by the Oakland municipal museum. One is devoted to "cocoanuts" and the other to "glass manufacture." With many others, they were lent to the school department as examples of the subjects to be studied. Each subject is under glass and is supposed to be kept circulating through the schools.

But "cocoanut" and "glass manufacture" have quit circulating. Somewhere in the basement of some school they are supposed to be, but no one knows where. Their absence was discovered today by school authorities when checking up materials. A general search has begun.

When the automobile in which they were riding turned turtle as it was turning a corner, another couple who occupied the rear seat were not injured. The injured were picked up by a passing car and rushed to the Petaluma general hospital, where it was found that Miss Brown was badly cut and bruised. She sustained a deep gash in her shoulder. Angios was cut and bruised about the body and had his hands and fingers mangled. The party was on the way from San Francisco to Boyes Springs when the accident happened. The machine was badly wrecked.

Miss Rosa Lehman, 748 Sixth street, Oakland, received cuts about the scalp yesterday when the machine in which she was riding with her uncle, San Jose, same address, ran into the automobile of J. Rothmund, 2124 Channing way. The accident occurred at Channing way and Fulton avenue. Miss Lehman was struck by the machine. Her uncle was not hurt.

S. Ishibashi, a Japanese, residing at 421 Alcatraz, riding on a bicycle was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. J. P. Sherwood, 463 Sixth street, Oakland, yesterday afternoon. He was taken to the Central hospital by ambulance. It was found that he was not seriously injured. He sustained several slight cuts and bruises.

Engineer Wanted for Surveyor-General

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Maintaining that if the public interests are to be considered, a competent engineer should be appointed for the office of surveyor-general "for other purposes than merely to sign checks for the expenditure of public money," the San Francisco Chapter of the American Association of Engineers has adopted a resolution ordering the board of directors of the local chapter to take immediate steps with other chapters in California in an effort to have Congress amend the existing law setting forth the qualifications for the office of surveyor-general.

The members of the organization declare that under the present law, engineering qualifications are not made a necessity, "leaving this important office open to the appointment of anyone desirous of seeking the office."

OFFICIAL TELLS HOW KEY TRAINS
ARE OPERATEDLong Mileage Traveled Each Day; Safety Plans Are Explained.

Each hour the cars of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway Company travel in mileage a distance equal to that from Oakland to Chicago, E. E. Thornton, superintendent of the Key division of the Electric Club at luncheon at the Hotel Oakland today, Thornton's address on "Electric Suburban Railways" was replete with startling comparisons. The speaker prefaced his remarks with a history of electrical research that started 2500 years ago when Thales noticed that amber, rubbed with other material, would attract certain things.

Operation of the one-man car and the reasons for the innovation were explained as well as the "coast clock" system that is used and which allows motormen to save on power and still maintain their schedules. The company's work in safety first admonition and passenger education, the training and testing of the operators of the company's operations were other points touched on. Thornton showed the club members the psychological tests used in selecting men for platform work.

"It is not generally known," he said, "that we operate 640 revenue trains in and out of the Key System per terminal every 24 hours. The Pennsylvania railroad in New York city operates 150 trains in and out of their fifty million dollar terminal during the same period."

"We claim the distinction of having the most densely signaled piece of territory in our great United States, 3.5 miles of track over which the movement of trains is governed and protected by 148 interlocking and automatic signals."

"The close up of these signals enables us to operate trains at an even maximum speed of 35 miles an hour at intervals of forty seconds, and, in addition to indicating to the motorman the exact condition of the track ahead of him, will automatically stop the train if he fails to heed the position and meaning of the signals."

Hikers Will Scale
Diablo Next Sunday

Members of the club who make a visit to the San Pablo watershed of the bay area for the purpose of viewing the sunrise Sunday morning, the public is returned last night stated with the prospect of enjoying many good times on future trips through the country. The water company returned last night stated with the prospect of enjoying many good times on future trips through the country. German Pacifists
Laud U. S. Parley

ESSEN, Germany, Oct. 10 (By the Associated Press).—The German Pacifist Congress has adopted a resolution approving the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments, recognizing American initiative and hoping that it would inaugurate a new era of peace and world disarmament, and particularly help in avoiding conflict in the Far East.

The Congress demanded that the German government take immediate steps to gain admission to the League of Nations.

We Are for City and County Consolidation

Whereas, the members of the Oakland Real Estate Board, Realtors and keen students of real estate and all matters that affect real estate for good and bad, have made a very careful and extended study of the subject of Consolidated City and County Government as a means of relieving the very onerous taxation problem which has for years seriously retarded real estate in this community, and are, moreover, convinced that Oakland can never realize the destiny to which she is naturally entitled without the fundamental tools with which to work—proper water, traction and harbor facilities—and are convinced that these tools can be supplied only through consolidation of City and County governments; and

Whereas, the members of this organization have carefully studied the proposed City and County Consolidation Charter prepared by the Board of Freeholders and soon to be submitted to a vote of the citizens of the East Bay Shore communities, and, while recognizing that no form of government devised by man can be wholly perfect, have concluded, after mature thought, that this is as good a charter as honest and intelligent men can prepare and as good as this community is apt ever to have opportunity to adopt; and

Whereas, Oakland stands at the present moment at the most critical period in her history, where, if given the proper assistance, she might achieve the glorious position to which she is rightfully entitled, that of the leading and most rapidly growing city of the Pacific Coast; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Oakland Real Estate Board, that this organization, representing two hundred and eight realtors of this community, and the owners of many millions of dollars' worth of real estate, does hereby endorse the proposed Charter and sincerely urges every taxpayer and real estate owner in this community to support consolidation in every proper manner at the forthcoming election.

ADOPTED at regular membership meeting, Hotel Oakland, September 28th, 1921.
